

1st E-newsletter

- NetBiome-CSA: Addressing biodiversity conservation challenges by strengthening research cooperation
- Mobilising all stakeholders to conserve biodiversity
- Gran Canaria Conference – An exciting place to be
- From dialogue to results: Identifying the main challenges for tropical and sub-tropical biodiversity
- Moments from the Gran Canaria Conference
- NetBioME-CSA: Continuing the challenges discussions in Guadeloupe
- Stakeholders' views
- The Guadeloupe Conference on Biodiversity and Climate Change

- Where we stand and what we have achieved
- BEST Initiative: A follow-up of the message from La Réunion
- NetBiome-CSA partners join the BiodivERsA network
- NetBiome-CSA taking part in the SEBI biodiversity indicators update
- NetBiome at the 27th International Congress for Conservation Biology (ICCB) & 4th European Congress for Conservation Biology (ECCB)

©NetBiome-CSA

NetBiome-CSA: Addressing biodiversity conservation challenges by strengthening research cooperation

Background of the project [\[Read more\]](#)

©NetBiome-CSA

Mobilising all stakeholders to conserve biodiversity

Through a participative process the objective is to mobilise stakeholders, their knowledge and resources for initiatives such as policy and priority analysis, multi-stakeholder dialogues, exchange of good practices, training and issuing of recommendations [\[Read more\]](#)

©Marimar Villagarcia

Gran Canaria Conference - An exciting place to be

All of Net-Biome's partners were there: the 1st International Conference of the NetBiome-CSA project held in Las Palmas, Gran Canaria between the 28th and 30th of May 2014
[Read more]

©Josiane Irissin-Mangata

From dialogue to results: Identifying the main challenges for tropical and sub-tropical biodiversity

In order to strengthen research partnerships and cooperation in tropical and subtropical outermost regions (ORs) and overseas countries and territories (OCTs), the NetBiome-CSA project is fostering trans-regional dialogues with the stakeholders from these areas. [Read more]

©NetBiome-CSA

Moments from the Gran Canaria Conference

Presentations, photo galleries and videos [Read more]

©Josiane Irissin-Mangata

NetBioME-CSA: Continuing the challenges discussions in Guadeloupe

On the side-lines of the International Conference on Biodiversity and Climate Change
NetBiome-CSA organized a 2nd round of the challenge-specific workshops [Read more]

©NetBiome-CSA

Stakeholders' views

The NetBiome-CSA challenges' specific workshops in Guadeloupe, as major stakeholders experienced it [Read more]

©Jocelyne Mouriessse

The Guadeloupe Conference on Biodiversity and Climate Change

The Guadeloupe Conference on Biodiversity and Climate Change was the ideal opportunity and place to enhance the dialogue regarding the importance of managing tropical and subtropical biodiversity [\[Read more\]](#)

©Josiane Irissin-Mangata

Where we stand and what we have achieved

The stage is now open to enlarge the participation of stakeholder groups in addressing the identified challenges as well as in the process of contributing to the final policy briefs and research recommendations [\[Read more\]](#)

©Valeria Pugliese

BEST Initiative: A follow-up of the message from La Réunion

FRCT, the coordinating partner of NetBiome-CSA, was invited to participate in the consortium led by IUCN which went on to win the call for tender for BEST III [\[Read more\]](#)

©Josiane Irissin-Mangata

NetBiome-CSA partners join the BiodivERsA network

While the first Net-Biome Era-Net project created unique biodiversity-related network among ORs and OCTs, the BiodivERsA Era-Net project, which was active at the same time, aimed to mobilise key EU continental partners involved in biodiversity [Read more]

©Josiane Irissin-Mangata

NetBiome-CSA taking part in the SEBI biodiversity indicators update

The European Environment Agency (EEA) is updating the SEBI biodiversity indicators, and through that process carried out a scoping/feasibility study of a set of indicators specific to Europe's overseas [Read more]

©Josiane Irissin-Mangata

NetBiome at the 27th International Congress for Conservation Biology (ICCB) & 4th European Congress for Conservation Biology (ECCB)

NetBiome-CSA will organise a round table discussion at the ICCB & ECCB joint meeting in 2015 [Read more]

© NetBiome - CSA

To unsubscribe the newsletter, please reply to this email with the word unsubscribe.

Disclaimer · Contact

